Laszlo of Montreal

From his studio on Sherbrooke Street in the heart of downtown, the eminent photographer Laszlo has been capturing the most prominent personalities in Montreal and from around the world for decades.

Laszlo is a globetrotting Montreal-based portrait photographer. At home he has rightly been called the “court photographer” by Peter C. Newman. Laszlo (like Cher, Madonna and Napoleon, he gets by using just his first name) spends most of his professional time photographing corporate titans, wealthy socialites, famous artists and celebrated sports figures. It can be said of the photographer himself that he has reached an enviable stage of public recognition – by becoming a brand name himself.

Born in Hungary, Laszlo Mezei emigrated to Canada after the 1956 Hungarian uprising. He studied photography and the History of Art in both his adopted country and New York City. His large-format book, Laszlo Portraits, published in 1999, featured stunning photographs of fifty-five distinguished Canadians. The book acted as Laszlo’s anthem of gratitude to Canada.
